Philosophy

 In supporting children's physical, personal, emotional, spiritual wellbeing and cognitive aspects of their learning.

In children are equal with unique qualities and abilities and should be treated fairly, with their input being acknowledged and respected.

Children

supporting the family's role as primary nurturers, with effective communication and collaboration with families.

In acknowledging and

We Believe...

 In acknowledging, respecting and embracing the diversity of children and their families.

Community

In children have the right to play and learn in a homely, engaging, nurturing and safe environment.

 In children thrive when families, educators and the wider community work together to support children's wellbeing and learning.
